To purge, to bathe, or bleede is not debar'd, so that the golden Meane be well obseru'd: Its also good to hunt, to ride, and run, so that extremes heerein thou euer shun.

Now Mars with loue, and Venus with her mate, are at defiance and contentious hate:

A shame for Christians that professe one truth, to be ill-minded or disposed to ruth.

Sol and Hermes now agree like gods, but Mars and Saturne are at greatest ods With the inferiour Planets next the earth, which may portend to worldlings little mirth.

The Square of Sol and Saturne do presage a chilly Autumne and a nipping age:
 And Sol with Ioue at open variance, shewes little ioy in mirth or daliance.

Nouember will be quiet if he can, so tis the duty of each mortall man : But some are proud, and will not friendly liue, which will their kindred and adherents griene.

December hath xxxi. daies.

Hot meat, sweet wine, and fire of fragant wood, the spirits raise, and helpe to cheere the blood : But milke and Keale, and all such waterish geare, bequeath to him that hath no better cheare.

A PROGNOSTI-cation for this present yeare of our LORD GOD.

M. DC. XIX.

Being the third from the Bissextile, or Leape-yeare.

Wherein (besides the generall state of the foure Quarters of the yeare, and the weekly disposition thereof) are briefly set downe sundry Physicall notes, and other directions of good consequence.

Together with the Eclipse of the Moone, and other planetary bodies, as they will appeare this present yeare. 1619.

Physically argued from the severall habitudes and effects of this our earthly Orbe, to that of Light, and others: and of all of them one to another.

Certaine Physicall obseruations.

It is not amisse sometimes (we thinke) Cuckow-like to sing the same song in our writings, seeing that as a good tale can neuer be too often told, so must it be confided with the Doct that on this est iam dictum quod non dicta sit prius, and that often when we strive to mend the matter, we mar all. First therefore in regard that vrina est meretrix, altering its colour and consistence upon the least occasion offered, and that the rude multitude will not beleue that the best Physician in the world can cure them unless he can tell them (by their water colour) of every idle pinch and trifling griefe about them, so that the honest Physician is distempered, and then for his owne credit to vlsome of Gordons his witty sleights: whereas in deed every patient that is wise should with learned Seneca ac knowledge his owne infirmity and say, quare non verum ut medico faceris? but because neither the patients owne relation nor the physician his best knowledge by virtue, can alwaies hit the nail on the head, either in the discovery or cure of some he reditary and other diseases reigning now a daie, nam tempora mutantur & nos mutamur in illis, therefore it is very requisite that the Physician whose counsell & aduise is required should be furnished with better knowledge and understanding of the disease, then by any experiment can be discerned whyley cannot be attained vnto but by Astrologicall meantes, quandoquidem medicus celestia deserens adminicula in exhibendis compo nendisq; medicinis, infirmi & valetudinarii vitam negligere ma nifesta probatur: nam nisi cognouerit quanta sit in corporum ecc lestium obseruatione vtilitas & difficultas, venenum erit sepean morbo quod in remedium ab ipso propinabitur, quoniam Astro logia medicinam concomitans in curis veris, morborum multum iuxta medicantes. For we obserue that Saturne and Mars (ac counted natures enemies) are alwaies gnuious to brats of their owne stamp, though the one cherishe desire, the other throwe despite, sometimes become massacres of their owne selues, whereas Iupiter his iust, and Venus her looues, the Moone her lunatic, and Mercury his leuellers are often can ders of their owne decay.

If therefore thou wouldst helpe, strengthen or comfort the mind vertue or lively power whose seat is in the heart, thou and is the most fertile but also the most hot and moist and is the most fertile in the Sun is living & conspired with the friendly beams of Iupiter and Luna.

The naturall vertue governed by Iupiter, Venus and Luna, and seated in the liver, wherein are ingendered the four humors, is fertilized especially by it if the bile hot and moist things at such time as he is well disposed in the horoscope or conjured with Venus and the moon fortunate.

The animal vertue distinguished into the intellectuall part which Mercury governes, and the sensitive with the moode with Iupiter and Venus doe rule, is best comforted under those planets well disposed, and medicines temperate and agreeable to these natures.

The vertue of the liver (one of the foure lesse principall and substantive organs in heat and dryness, & is fertilized by the of hot nature, the moode pulling under ♀ Aries and Sagittary and well aspected of Sol or Mars (asphate or the ♀) in any other signe is aspected and ♀ or ♀ ascending.

The vertue rectivie delighted in cold and dry things by the influence of Saturne and is best comforted, the ♀ seated under ♀ or ♀ applying with a friendly aspect unto Saturne, or ♂ or ♀ in another signe is aspected & either ♀ or ♀ ascending.

The vertue digestive is furthered by heat and moisture, & the influence of Iupiter & is best holpen when the ♀ is under ♂ or ♀ and aspected of that friendly Planet, or if the be in some other signe then it is convenient that either ♀ or ♀ be ruling.

The vertue cruentive delighted in coldness and moisture, and that by the influence of the ♀ well aspected and placed in ♂ or ♀ while one of these signs are ascending.

Directions for Phlebotomy.

Amongst all other physcail intentions Phlebotomy is most warily to be attempted for that as a quolibet ligno non fit Mercurius, so good blood is not ingendered of all viands, nor easily restored in decaying bodies: And in this our floathern climate we see that most of vs are pestered with flegme and cathetrical humors (by reason of our surfeiting & ill diet) then with superfluous & corrupting chyle or good blood: the last some think that (as the ancients) to cure such bodies is by good diet, exercise, sweating, purgation or diaphoreticall means or by cupping and leeches application (and not letting turpentine) shall thinke fit, rather then by any booke-learned like evasion of blood: For the more the bodies and in diseases of a pleuriti-cal nature consisting of a viscidous nature, there is no safer not another way of cure then by Phlebotomy, so that blood be taken with good discretion and convenient quantitie.

And upon such daies as I haue signified in these columnes of the Almanacke with Δ and \star aspects: for although there be some physicians and Chyrurgions (I knowe) that care not what is said of any man shall lay in this kinde, but dare quite him him administer physick, make incision, open a veine, or practice any other mystery without respect of signes, constellation, heauen or heauens helpe, which although a man may in some cases and upon some persons not fatally afflicted sometimes aduenture to doe, yet may the heauens be so disposed, either by the present configuration or their private affect from the patients geniture, that were it not for Gods mercy and his louing decree as that of Iona: in the whales belly, no such thing could be available, but rather hurtfull, and wonderfull mis-chance to his future health, for I dare boldly affirme that if a man fall sick, or any physician giue physicke, or is but sent to a patient at the point of the full change, or quarter (either lunary afflicted) at the moone her conjunction, opposition or square with Iacune or Mars, or at the ascension subsiding disension or point of Nadir of either of them, or any other violent Rarre, or when the Almuten of the ascendant is in the 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, house afflicted or the 12 in any of them, what cure thou then and in such case there is small comfort to be giuen to the patient little hope in the medicine, and less credit to the physician, & hinc ille lacrymae, this is the cause why the physition and Apothecary are oft blamed, when indeede it is nothing but the disposition of the time, as the learned and well experienced physicians, D. Forest and D. Turner, to my knowledge did privately and warily obserue in their best considerations and cures, the which thing is in no wise neglected by my especiall good friend and after Carrier of Sizingburne, D.
Ploock, not of many other iudiciall physicians at this day: but let each man doe as his Genius doth best dispose him, for mine owne part I will follow mine, and here set downe once againe the effects of due phlebotomy according to honest Ruland:

The sad in minde it merry makes, and anger doth appeale, From madnesse, fond-sicke loners salues, and clarifies the eyes,

A Prognostication

The humid braine and mentall powers the rebey are purged, And raging heat of choller fell is also qualifide.
By it the bowels purged are, and good digestion wrought, The stomacke eased and body sellc to nature's sisteme brought.
Pure senses, and due sleep it veelds, all tediousnesse expels, Restores the hearing, voyes & strength, and Venus heat refels.

Elections for Purging

In regard the principall scope of physick is nothing else but either adiectio deficientium or subtractio redundantium & that many more people fall into languishing diseases and deperate sicknesses rather thow too much plenitude and infirmity of bad humors, attracted by ill diet and intemperate living, then by want of or want of due nourishment, for natura semper parvis contenta gulis nunquam, and certain it is, that plures necat gula quam ensis, it is therefore the part of every good physician not only to know the true crisis and temper of his patients body, and the quantity and quality of the humor offending, but also a fit season to exhibit and give his proposed medicine: for I make no question but every discreet physician observeth an incredible difference in the operation of a like medicine upon sundry persons, or of the same medicine upon the same patient, given at different times which can be nothing else but either the disposition of the subject, or contrariety of constellation, as it is said: in brevis therefore because the Moon is the earths planet from whom floweth both the faculty influence

Of Eclipses this yeare. 1693

Although we in England shall see no Eclipse at all this yeare, yet will our neighbouring dwellers and remote inhabitants behold the Luminaries foure times eclipsed, the first whereof will happen vpon the earth: Sun this year whether, the 11. of January, at 9 of the clocke, 29. minutes at night, at which instant our Ambassadors about the promontory of good hope at Cape Bone Spei and straight of Wagellanus shall see the Sun almost totally darkned, which is not only like to minister present terror, but matter of insuing griefe to those Indian dwellers.

The second eclipse will bee of the Moone the 30. of January, 25. minutes past 1. in the afternoon, at which time the Easterlings about Nova guinea, Cathay and Japon shall see a quarter of the Moone eclipsed, which being small and of no consequence to vs, I leave to think and more thereof.

The third eclipse will happen vpon the Western part of the earth, the 11. of May 38. minutes past 7. in the evening, when shall be about the moon time at which instant the Inhabitants about Guiana, Florida, Virginia, New-found-land, &c. shall see several Eclipses of the Sun quite covered or intercepted from them by the darke and massie body of the Moone which total eclipse happening vnder the last face of Cancer) hath portend some notable Sedition, plague, or sickness to the Africans, Christians and some of her neere neighbouring countries.

The 4. Eclipse is of the latter of the two great lights, ruler of the night, Sun the 11. of June the latter of the Planets, (I meane the Moone) being vpon the latter of the Summer her naturall light when, the 11. day of December being Thursday at a 1. a clock and 29. minutes in the morning, she shalling to shew her greatest beautie of light, and absolute roundness, will be partnered by the interposition of this darke Globe of the Earth: which doth hinder the glorious beames of the Sun, from shining vpon her light vnto the body of the Moone where she must suffer an Eclipse or loss of Light, but the quantity of it, being (her whole Body being dimmed) and in the summer she will beginne to lose her light at one clock, and 29. minutes past. And in her greatest obscurity at 1. a clock and 29. minutes: so that from the beginning to the end will bee 3. hours 29. minutes, but small light she will receaue in her greatest time of her darknesse, will appeare vpon the shadowy surface of her Body.

Bretnor 1619.

Of the foure quarters of the yeare, and first of Winter,

Winter which by good reason and indeede, both alwayes commence with November, did take his beginning (according to vulgar Astrology) the 11. of December last, at one a clock, and 47 minutes in the afternoon, for at that time was this part of our Hemisphere farthest deflected from the eye or hart of the world, or the Sun (after olde dotage) then entering the first minute of the tropicall Signe Capricorne. gaue least portion of Sun-shine to vs, and consequently caused shortest daies and longest nights to all Northerne inhabitants.

The disposition of the wether this quarter may appeare in its place, and for sicknesses such as are of a colde and moist nature, and some epidemicall and strong will range abroad.

Of the Spring.

The Spring (which sensibly and truly begins in February) according to the Astronomers, makes its entrance this yeare the 10 of March at 2 a clocke and 10 minutes in the afternoon, the 10 of A ascending. At which instant the earth hauing vol-ued herselfe to a righte anale with the Sun, and reconered like portion of shadow and Sun-shine, entereth the first minute of the religious signe Libra, or the Sun according to appearance, then stepping vnder the first scruple of Aries, maketh dayes & nights equal to all nations.

The wether this quarter is like to prove indifferent, if the latter end be not too hipping, and for diseases, expect a few, & those both violent and contagious.

Now Mars and and Sol conioynd in Aries face, Bode good to some, but many will disgrace.

Of Summer.

Summer which naturally commenceth in May, taketh its beginning this yeare at such time as the earth entereth the first minat of T or hath approached its furthest Southern Limit and coming neare the Suns vsuall presence, obtaineth greatest portion of his bright beames, and beautiful illumination or (if you please) when the Sun climbing vnder the first scruple of Cancer and finishing his largest Northerne progresse ma-keth longest daies and shortest nights to all arctike dwellers, which either way taken falleth out this yeare the 11 of June 24 minutes past 6 in the evening.

A Prognostication

The weather this quarter will prove indifferent, and reasonable, if August bluster not: but the winter will be contrary and desperate.

Of Harvest.

Autumn (which in common sense begins in August) is usually said to enter at such time as the regall Planet \odot returns backward re-touching the equator in the first minute of Libra: or rather when the earth entering the first scruple of Aries and beholding the Sun face to face, re-toucheth a like quantity of backward, which howsoever taken commeth to pass, the 13. of September at 7. minutes before 10. in the forenoon.

As in this season variety of weather and some boisterous blasts are prognostified, so will many bodies bee pestered with many melancholly and flatulent diseases, dangerous Fevers, Croups, Stiches, Conductions, Dienteries, &c.

A more particular prediction of the Ayres daily disposition,

The Authors loue to the Mathematicks.

THe friendly Philomathist may take notice of an excellent Booke penned and published by M. Aaron Ratburnus, called The Surveyor, wherein is not onely handled the practice & legall parts on Surveying, but the chiefest Theormes and principall grounds of Geometry in generall, and are to bee solde by Walter Burre, at his Shop in Paules Church-yard at the signe of the Crane.

There is also an excellent Instrument, called The Arithmetical Jewell, with a Book of it's singular vse, inuented and published by M. William Prat, and made in Iuory and mettall by Robert Limborow, Gold-smith in Gutter-lane. As also the Logarithmes in English, and an excellent Treatise of Rabdologia, or Arithmetical Rods, inuented and published by the learned Lord of Merchiston, which Instruments or Rods (commonly called Napiers Bones) are made by Nathanall Goffe in Hosier-lane.

Moreouer an Appendix, or an Addition written by M. D. Ridley vnto his Magneticall Treatise in answer to M. Barlow. And also a necessary and vsefull Pamphlet, concerning the preparation and safe vse of Opium, and it's admirable vertue in that excellent medicine called Laudanum, written in French by Angelus Sala, and Tran-

Translated into English with necessary Annotations by Thomas Browne. As also a small Treatise called the Art of Pronuntiacion, wherein by certaine Characters is taught the exact touch of Pronuntiacion of any language inuented, and published by Robert Robinson.

Printed by Nicholas Okes, & are to be sold at M. Simon Watermans Shop in S. Pauls Church-yard at the signe of the Crowne.

All Mathematicall Instruments are made in brass by my kinde friend Master Eliaz Allen at the Bulls head ouer against S. Clements Church in the Strand, the which I thought good to let the ingenious Practitioner knowe, in regard there be some teachers about this towne, which for their owne priuate gaine will fobbe them off with trash in stead of good ware, and so in stead of good dealing they are abused and speed ill.

Perfusa sunt rudis, inuida, rustica turba, Inuoluntarius, assentator illeptus, Scelus, magus, quibus est virtus odiosa, voluntque Esse procul doctos: ut quando cadauera conui Inuenire fugant, alias volucresque ferasque.

The wisest wealth, the Statist same and glory doth acquire,
But Rebellers nought but bread & hoake & ratching do desire.
